

Leaving a legacy for the people of Reepham

How a gift in your will can help keep our community hub at the heart of Reepham for future generations

Be part of the future of our Centre by leaving a gift in your will.

In 1919 Samuel Bircham (1841-1923), a local resident and landowner of Reepham, gave the building to the town to be held in trust for the people of Reepham for 'use as a reading room and community meeting place'.

Since that time the Centre has become the hub of community life in Reepham. Every year funds must be raised to maintain the building and support the services it offers. You can be part of the Centre's future by leaving a gift in your Will.

If you are thinking of writing or making changes to your Will,* please consider leaving a gift to the Bircham Centre. Gifts in Wills make a big difference to the future of the Centre and help us ensure that the building and its services will be available to future generations.

Every gift is appreciated, no matter the size

No one knows what the future will hold and needs may change over the years. Therefore we encourage you to leave a gift in your Will 'for the general purposes of the Bircham Centre' as this will give us the greatest flexibility to use your gift where it is needed most.

If you wish to direct your gift towards a specific area, such as to help maintain the building and garden, or community support and events, you can do so by restricting your gift. All you need to do is specify the area of activity you wish to support. A gift 'in memoriam' can also be a wonderful way to remember a loved one.

Whatever you decide, your gift will make a big difference

Any restriction on how to spend your gift will be honoured and the Trustees will publicly acknowledge receipt of gifts from Wills in whatever way you and/or your executors feel most appropriate. Or we can make sure that gifts remain anonymous, if you'd prefer.

If you wish to discuss this with someone, please get in contact with us on 01603 879242 or email thebirchamcentre@gmail.com
